Do you have a child who will enter grade 6 or 7 in August, 2012?

Do you want to see your child succeed in high school and college?

Do you want a school for your child that provides study hall and after-school activities?

Can you pay $20 per month for tuition?

Would your child be successful in small, gender-separate classes with more one-on-one attention from teachers?

If you answered “yes” to these questions, you should consider Nativity Academy at St. Boniface.

We welcome you...

During Open House days, visitors may walk into classrooms, talk with teachers and administrators, and listen to current parents speak about the school and its offerings.

Nativity Academy is an independent Catholic middle school, grades 6-8, offering educational excellence to boys and girls of academic promise from low-income families.

The school gives priority to children, who are eligible for the Federal lunch program, from all over Metro Louisville who desire an academically-challenging, personalized and supportive, faith-based environment in the Catholic tradition.

Nativity Academy provides:

- ✓ academic, physical, social, moral and spiritual development for children of all faiths
- ✓ affordable, non tuition-based private education
- ✓ parental/guardian involvement
- ✓ extended-day and extended-year program
- ✓ small class sizes (no more than 15 students per class) in gender-separate classrooms
- ✓ on-going support after graduation through the high school years
